Video store disappoints all-A student

A sign on [name deleted] video store offers a free video rental to kids for each 'A' on their report cards. Since my child got all A's, she couldn't wait to go there and load up.

We went there but were told that she couldn't get the movies because my family didn't have a membership card. Naturally I asked to sign up. But they wouldn't let me. No, I had to come back when the manager was there.

It was a nice idea to offer to reward students for A's. But in my book, [name deleted] video flunks big time.

Paper was duped about Liberty Fest's attendence

While your newspaper is interesting to read, I often take it with a grain of salt, like other papers. It's unfortunate that nowadays you can't always believe what you read or see in the media. I trust my eyes, not the media. That's why I don't believe that 50,000 people attended the Liberty Fest like you said.

You should've asked some of the workers or arts and crafts people selling their wares. Ask them how many items they sold – if any.

Norwayne politicians set rules but don't follow them

Not all Norwayne houses are boarded-up like the homes pictured in your paper. Not all of their yards are weed jungles.

Most Norwayne homes are owned by responsible families who keep up their homes.

The homes in your paper were an exception.

They were rentals owned by landlords with lower standards than the decent homeowners who work hard to maintain and improve their homes.

They were politicians more interested in setting rules than following them.

Where are the pictures of the many beautiful homes and yards in Norwayne?

McGill begins key job

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Mary Kelley McGill – newly named Romulus Special Education Director – expresses a strong interest in widening the special ed curriculum to include the same classroom opportunities open to the reminder of the district's student body.

Displaying a strong enthusiasm for the Romulus School District, McGill said she also hopes to improve the educational and social climate of special ed students, upgrade the technology available to them and to add to the special ed training opportunities.

McGill took over for the departing Claude Siders on Monday and will have a two-fold summer...first learning her new post's responsibilities and later helping to train her successor in the Merriman Elementary School principal's office.

Mary Kelley McGill

In her short year and a half as Merriman School principal, McGill feels she and her staff greatly improved that school's educational climate, which she feels will provide a major assist for her successor. The school has had several principal shifts this decade.

McGill said currently Romulus serves about 400 special ed students with a staff of about 54 educators and support personnel.

She earned her doctoral degree in Educational Leadership last year at Eastern Michigan University; her Education Specialist in Educational Leadership designation in 1994 and her Masters Degree in 1989 from the same university.

Her undergraduate studies were completed at Central Michigan University in 1970.

Prior to her arrival in Romulus in 1997, McGill served as an adjunct professor at EMU during the summer of 1996; assistant Wagar Middle School Principal in the Airport Community Schools of Carleton, 1994-96; technology and grants coordinator at Beacon Center, 1989-94; teacher of the emotionally impaired in Romulus, 1983-89; teacher consultant, Wayne-Westland Community Schools, 1978-82; and elementary teacher consultant for the emotionally impaired, first-third grade, 1971-1975.

Airport tax change being sought here

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Seeking to help communities (such as Romulus) containing or impacted by various Wayne County airport operations, State Sen. Loren Bennett (R-Canton) is pressing for citizen and political support to change some of the current state airport tax funding options.

Bennett appeared at the Romulus City Council meeting on June 22 to explain that his current bill (Senate Bill 832) would set up a committee composed of municipal representatives impacted by various airports in Wayne County to disperse the funds collected by an airport parking tax -- recently stated to be worth up to $12 million.

Currently Bennett said 100 percent of the tax collected at parking sites on Metro Airport grounds goes to Wayne County and 80 percent of those taxes collected off the airport also go to Wayne County.

The remaining 20 percent of the off airport tax is given to the city of Romulus, he said. Since those parking sites are basically in Romulus, city residents and political leaders feel that percentage of financial return to Romulus is inadequate.

Bennett said earlier that the original tax plan was "intended to help Wayne County pay off bonds associated with the Wayne County bailout in the 1980s. However, the county has been putting the money into its general fund."

Bennett's bill would reroute those funds instead into a special fund for airport and tax loss issues for cities and townships impacted by Wayne County airports.

Bennett told Romulus Mayor William Oakley and the council that he has enough support in the State Senate to get the bill through, but lacks that critical backing in the Michigan House.

Thus until Bennett feels that he has at least an even shot at passage in the Michigan House, he will leave his bill in a state Senate committee.

Bennett's bill would amend an airport parking tax act passed in 1987. If approved it would set up a County Improvement Board (with local controls) consisting of one member from each city or township in which an airport is located. Those representatives would be appointed by the municipalities' governing bodies. Another representative would come from a township in a direct flight pattern from Metro Airport. Two representatives (who live within five miles of an airport) also would be named by regional planning organizations.

The appointed board would address issues such as: noise mitigation, environmental concerns such as exhaust fumes from airplanes and the reimbursement to taxing authorities for the reduction in property tax base due to the acquisition of properties outside of the boundaries of the airport facility.

Bennett is hopeful that if the board is created that municipalities such as Romulus and Huron Township would receive much more favorable support for efforts seeking to curtail various airport caused problems.

Bennett told Romulus officials that David Katz, current Metro Airport director, said he would fight the Bennett proposal.

For more information call Bennett at 517-373-7350.

Midfield terminal completion due in 2001

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The $800 million turn of the century Detroit Metro Airport midfield terminal is underway -- on schedule and on budget -- the area media were told last Thursday by James M. Greenwald, Northwest Airlines Vice President for facilities, design and construction.

Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara and Greenwald offered statements pointing to a successful opening of the new terminal -- funded by a proposed $1 billion Wayne County bond sale -- by the year 2001.

> "Metro Airport will then have more retail space than any other U.S. airport except the one in Miami."
> - Northwest officials

The massive bond sale is the largest single bond sale in the history of U.S. airports, county officials said.

While the grand opening date has been stressed heavily this past year -- many in the area remain skeptical if that will actually occur. They base that skepticism on the size of the project (labor hassles that can be involved in the effort) and the long delays and cost hikes that have occurred in large airport projects in other parts of the country.

But McNamara and Greenwald (at least outwardly) remain optimistic that the skepticism will lessen as the construction effort continues.

Greenwald used drawings and renderings of the planned terminal to spotlight what the huge terminal will look like....including two express trams moving in opposite directions, a total of 44 moving walkways over three miles and 74 gates.

Sixteen of those 74 gateways reportedly will handle 747's.

With the additional retail space added by the midfield terminal, Northwest officials said, Metro Airport will then have more retail space than any other U.S. airport except the one in Miami.

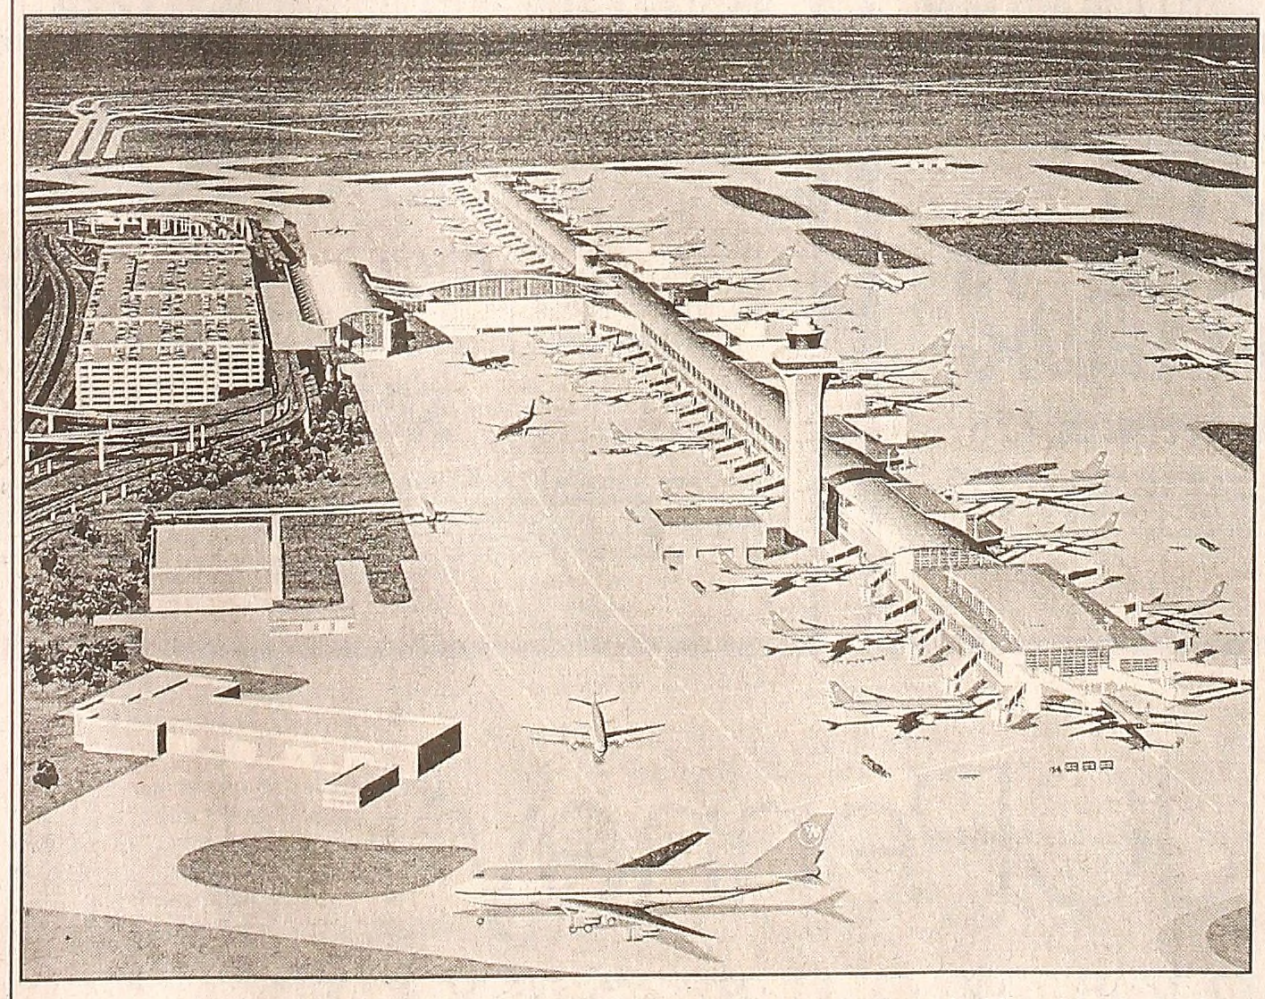
McNamara stressed many of the labor and financial gains the airport has given to the Metro area, including western Wayne County.

In 1996, McNamara reported, the airport provided a $4.2 billion boost to the local economy. He projects that number will jump to $5.1 in the year 2000.

Of interest to many in the area was the fact that $2.3 billion of that figure came from spending by air passengers. That number's growth is the one most area businesses will be watching.

The number of jobs at Metro Airport was listed as 61,611 (a 20 percent hike since 1991). Conservative estimates state the job numbers will leap to at least 71,000 by the turn of the century, McNamara said.

The total passenger count also has increased by 50 percent since 1991, while the international passenger count has mushroomed 192 percent.



An exterior view of the planned midfield airport terminal and plane sites is shown in this architect's drawing.

Race pits granny vs 'Jesus' batboy'

By Peter Narsisian
MCN Special Writer

Steve Mexicotte is a Westland man with a mission. He wants to change Westland's politics through what he calls guerrilla grassroots political organization. He's running against Ida Shelly to be the Republican delegate for the Precinct 29 in the Aug. 4 primary.

Most people don't know what a precinct delegate does because it is a small office without a lot of hoopla. Because of that, many precincts go without delegates.

Mexicotte says it's a shame more people don't get involved with this office.

"If people want to influence our two party system, they should run for delegate," he said. "It's the frontline of party politics."

Precinct delegates represent all the members of their party in the precinct. Westland's 29th has about 900 Republicans. The delegates are invited to the county and state conventions where they have the opportunity to influence the platform by voting and lobbying about issues with other delegates. At the state conventions, they vote on certain office openings and mingle with the party elite.

His opponent is Ida Shelly, a resident of Westland and of Precinct 29 for 35 years.

"I went to the state convention with a friend a couple years ago and I was hooked," she said.

A former Teledyne employee, she is now busy being a grandmother and homemaker.

"Kids and what we offer them in the way of schooling are my priorities," she said. She wants the state to be responsive to the concerns of local parents and children.

Both candidates will be invited to the convention irregardless of the vote count.

Mexicotte is no stranger to politics or controversy. He was appointed to the cable commission by Westland Mayor Thomas in 1991 and served four years.

A cable TV public access producer, he produces alternative shows, such as "Guerilla Graphix." One episode, which had an antiabortion theme, was never allowed on the air. He suspects censorship.

"Maybe it was too scary or religious for them, but abortion is more of a human rights issue than a religious issue," he said. Mexicotte wants the Michigan Republican's platform to stand against abortion.

He also wants the Michigan Republican party to stand up for working people. He said, "I'm against the globalony nonsense of Bill Clinton, Newt Gingrich, and company. Keep the jobs here and keep the USA independent."

He aligns himself more with the nationalist wing of the party represented by Patrick Buchanan, and said that many Republicans are cold-hearted. He doesn't like those kind of Republicans.

"I'm sick of fat-cat beancounters like Limbaugh and Gingrich, they don't know what it means to be a Republican of Abe Lincolns' mold," he said.

Mexicotte would like to see the party take a strong stance against assisted suicide.

"We need to have empathy and mercy for people in pain, but Kevorkian is wrong and is leading us on a slippery slope," he said.

Mexicotte is his own boss in the construction trades. He graduated from John Glenn High in 1984 and attended Henry Ford college. He has been a resident of Westland and the 29th most of his life.

He said, "I want to bring together the good things from all political groups and incorporate them into the Republican party so it's policies are always in harmony with Genesis 1:27, which says that all people are created in the image of God, so if you hurt another you are indirectly hurting god."

"We need spiritually mature grass roots organizations now to prevent it," he said. "In many ways the world is down three runs in the bottom of the ninth, but the bases are loaded and Jesus is stepping up to the plate .... I'm just the batboy."

Romulus artist Nancy Pitel recently was declared the winner and creator of the cover design for the 1998 Sumpter Township souvenir book.

She later studied at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit. Years later she herself taught art classes at the YWCA for 18 years and became a freelance graphic artist and portrait painter.

Using basically colored pencils and watercolors, Pitel revealed her intent is to stimulate emotions in the viewer by creating a balance of energy between realism and the illusion of the dream state."

In 1992 Pitel lost the use of her hands and arms due to nerve damage from carpal tunnel syndrome. But after extensive physical therapy, chiropractic treatments and vitamin therapy, Pitel regained her ability to paint in 1995.

She currently is working on alternate ways of painting and drawing that are not as stressful on her hands and arms.

Pitel received a $100 award and t-shirt yesterday for winning the Sumpter book contest and plans a one-person Detroit appearance in September at the Urban Park Gallery in Trapper's Alley.

Race is Fiegers's to win

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

The August Primary, essentially only a month away, offers Democratic voters an opportunity to choose between distinct styles on both the gubernatorial and county executive levels.

Once dismissed as an anti-establishment candidate, Jeffery Fieger is making waves much to the chagrin of frontrunners Gary Owen and Doug Ross in the race to challenge Governor John Engler. If yard signs are a barometer, Fieger would win in Wayne and Westland. On the other hand if endorsements are what persuade voters, Gary Owen is the winner in a landslide.

I've gotta believe most of the voters are undecided this early in the race and the winner will be determined in the dog days of July when voters who are familiar with Fieger because of his boisterous defense of Jack Kervorkian, decide whether the man's sometimes radical ideas fit the common folk persona. In other words, it is up to Fieger to win or lose the race.

The safe money is on Owen. He has amassed a substantial war chest and has garnered the support of all the establishment Democrats. His problem, however, is that many Democrats may think he is too closely associated with the big unions. Another potential black eye is a loan he guaranteed to Circus Circus when his stepson purchased The Pioneer, a Las Vegas gambling casino, and then reneged on it. Owen claims it was just a bad business deal, but others might expect their governor to be more forthright in his business dealings.

Expect to see Fieger gain substantial ground in the polls. Right now Owen has a double digit lead in all polls. That will change. Curiously, Oakland County's Doug Ross was expected to mount a major challenge, but from my vantage point it has fizzled.

At the county executive level, Sharon McPhail plays the Fieger role. She is the anti-establishment Democrat taking on a popular, long-time county executive in Ed McNamara. McNamara has gotten all the major endorsements and has ten times the amount of money to spend. I'm not sure a darker scenario could be written.

But alas, there is hope for McPhail. McNamara's age, 71, although no where near Senator Strom Thurmond's 98, is a cause for concern. McPhail has already positioned herself as the youthful, fulltime candidate. And then too, McPhail always manages to do well with her back against the wall. Her runs at the Detroit mayoral position against formidable opposition have proven she can garner votes without stacks of cash.

McNamara enjoys a comfortable lead in all polls as of today. Whether the dog days will allow McPhail to gain ground depends on which way the undecided vote (30 to 40 percent) swings.

My guess is she will get part of it, but it will take a major flub on McNamara's part for her to get most of it.

Fieger and McPhail will certainly make politics interesting in the next month. It has been a long time since this area has seen a pistol like Fieger take on the establishment. This year we are treated to two-- McPhail is equally a powderkeg. Whether they achieve their goal – winning the Democratic primary-- remains to be seen, but trust me, they will get noticed!

Fourth retains fun, loses meaning

Ivan Helfman

July 4 is Independence Day, our nation's birthday.

Purple and red trails of skyrockets smelling of sulfur, sizzling barbecued burgers, and beach days redolent of the fruity smell and slick feel of coconut oil make it our official party down day.

In the old days, the Fourth was celebrated with out-of-tune brass bands leading parades down handsome two-story Main Street while flags waved from almost every bungalow porch on Elm Street.

The parade would end on the steps of a federal-style city hall, where the high school valedictorian would read an essay on civic virtue and the mayor would give an emphatic patriotic speech.

What the heck, it was summer and school was out and kids raced in the streets, squares, and parks of what used to be Ethnic America -- the richest, the freest, the most powerful and most independent nation on Earth.

Times change. Parades are rare, the squares are gone, parks are becoming subdivision open spaces, and Main Street, which had died, is being resurrected.

The main improvement is better fireworks. The Detroit River spectacular is breathtaking. For one night, the moonlit sky surrenders its serene beauty to the splash of glowing garish colors in motion.

The spectacle, watched by over a million Americans and Canadians on both sides of the border, has pumped up the celebration to a new level. So the problem is not with the celebration. Nor with what's being celebrated: America's independence was a watershed improvement in human history.

The problem is that since the Kennedy Round of trade negotiations in 1967, we've lost the economic independence that America's Founding Fathers risked all for, and we are in the process of losing our political independence to unelected bureaucrats appointed by international organizations with acronyms instead of names, such as the IMF or WTO.

While everybody is Western Wayne County's auto country – only 50 years ago the "Arsenal of Democracy" when it came to crunch time in World War II – has watched the almost 20 percent loss of high paying manufacturing jobs, few know how far the nation has fallen.

Thanks to the globalization of trade – which presidents from George Washington to Abraham Lincoln opposed – we've reversed our economic independence and have almost reverted to the same level of dependence on foreign finance and manufacturing that existing on July 4, 1776. Not only are we losing manufacturing jobs to the four corners of the globe, but we no longer have the capacity to build our own missiles nor to fuel our conventional weapons without the cooperation or permission of Japanese technicians or Mid East Sheiks. This is why our leaders recently had to crawl up to Iran, a terrorist nation, for help in containing Iraq.

With the loss of economic independence, the loss of political independence can't be far behind.

"Within the next 100 years . . . nationhood as we know it will be obsolete," said Strobe Talbott, Clinton's national security advisor; "all states will recognize a single, global authority."

If the Clinton-Talbott policies are carried out, no nation, let alone America, will be independent.

What then will we call July 4 – Dependence Day?

One Day Off From A Long Journey Can Do Wonders

Dear Mr. Ross: I just got home from helping my best friend who is going through a divorce. She put up with years of abuse, but when it began to have an effect on her children she decided no more. Since the divorce is not final and her husband is not paying her any money, things are even tighter. I'm not asking for food money or something that is essential for their survival, rather something she needs for herself. As long as I have known her, her family has always come first. She would never do anything for herself because the money was needed elsewhere. She has lost a lot of weight and her self-esteem could use a boost. Recently, they opened a Mario Triccoci Day Spa at the mall near our home, and we got such a kick talking about how great it would be to have the money ($250) to spend the day. I know there are people who need money for more important things–even my friend could use cash for essential things, but sometimes you need to be the one pampered and taken care of.

Dear Ms. W.: The sum of $250 can be looked at a lot of ways–1 hour of an attorney's time, 4 hours of a plumber's time, 1 race at the horse track, 2 weeks worth of groceries or a full day of pampering at a day spa. You're in a better position to judge what your friend needs most, so I'm sending you $250 and you make the determination. Somehow I know you'll choose the spa and rightfully so. Best wishes.

Dear Mr. Ross: When I fell in my apartment the manager called 911 and the ambulance took me to the hospital. I wear a back brace since an old injury many years ago. My husband had bought this horse for our daughter's birthday. We didn't know the horse was green so I was steadying her while she took the picture. The horse sent me in the air clear across the corral with a broken back. Back to the reason I wrote for help, the Wayne Township Fire Dept. has sent me a bill for $250 with a warning it will be more if I don't pay. This driver didn't come after me until midnight. He cursed all the way there. If you can help me pay this I will be forever grateful. My birth date is the same as Mother Theresa. I'll be 88 in August. I have a wheel chair, a walker and two canes. If I get better I'm looking forward to playing my piano. There's always hope.

Mrs. M. McW. ... Thrifty Nickel, Indianapolis, IN

Dear Mrs. McW.: Let's see if I have it all straight. You fell, the horse was green, the ambulance driver used foul language, Mother Theresa is a soul mate and you still hope to play the piano! These things are important because they are the qualifiers for receiving $250. The check is in the mail, my good woman. May you live to dance on your 90th birthday!

Dear Percy Ross: I've written you five times in the past year and you've never responded. First I needed help with my daughter's wedding. My ex-husband picked up the slack and we got through it. Then we needed a new roof. My ex-father-in-law kicked in. I'm not sure if I wrote you between needing a new car and needing dental work, but somehow we managed without your help. However, I know for sure I wrote you about my son's college tuition. We desperately need $5,000. Although the dollar amounts I've needed have fluctuated, I still need your help. Save face with me, Percy, and help us out just once.

Ms. G. M. ... The Post, Denver, CO

Dear Ms. M.: I'll be happy to help just once, but am asking that I get to fill a request in the $50 range. If you continue to write me with your every need, eventually we'll hit on a modest one.

Letters to the Editor

What's wrong with this picture?

To the editor:

Shirley Powser was elected to city council. So she asks a few questions about certain city political matters and all of a sudden-all Hell breaks loose!

The rest of the "Socialistic" council members want her to resign. The way I see it she seems to be the only one up on that panel, that's actually doing the job that she was elected to do! That is watch out for all of our welfare.

My question is how come it took so long to happen?

If there's (reasonable) doubt about city politics, by all means question the matter(s).

From the looks of things we need about eight more Shirley Powsers on the city council. I think she owes no one an apology for doing her job! If the rest of the self serving leeches of city politics don't like it-its still a free country. You are free to leave and go elsewhere!

Maybe they have forgotten, the vote put them where they are and the vote can take them away!

Well heres one voter who remembers things when he steps into the voting booth. When I vote for a candidate, I'm putting that person in office to do my bidding for me. Not to get in there and do what ever they choose to do!

That's how a republic, like ours is supposed to work!

Read the United States Constitution, I don't think you'll see the (communistic) term "democracy", anyplace in it!

If you know how to read at an eight grade level, then you can plainly see by reading our Constitution & Bill of Rights, that this country of our's was never meant to be turned into a democracy! You can still keep it a Republic.

Get out and vote and do something to change things that you don't approve of. The new World Order, wants America to turn into a democracy, and it looks like they have a good foothold in doing just that. You can make the difference.

We are not to fear Government, they are to fear us!

Their jobs depend on us. We still have the power of the vote. Don't lose that because you don't care enough to get out there and put your 2 cents in.

At least with people like Shirley Powser & Al Haidous we have people in there that at least show concern for the rest of us. I hope the rest of the council members aren't depending on my vote to keep them in office! At least we have 2 people that seem to be doing their jobs and working for us!

Isn't America Great? Let's keep it that way!

Until next time, have a nice day.

Sincerely,

60 percent not too high a requirement for passing tax raises

To the editor:

WHAT: we taxpayers finally get a chance to vote on Senate Joint Resolution A. Bravo: to Commissioners Bruce Patterson and Thaddeus McCotter who introduced the proposal; to Kathleen Husk who helped file a motion to order the county clerk to put proposal on ballot. Also gratis to Ed Boike and Bill O'Neil for their support.

Meanwhile, political shysters are pretending to publically side with citizens, but work behind the scenes in corruption - such as against Proposal A. To us taxpayers the slogan "politically correct" may mean "politically corrupt". Whenever a situation arises, such as big brother Detroit gets to elect judges because of its bigger population while the suburbs pay Wayne County taxes without right to representation, is not true justice. Nor are some county suburbs receiving their fair share of county services for their taxes.

Unfortunately, Commissioner Kay Beard of Inkster got her numbers tangled. She claims that "under the supermajority we would have to have 60% of votes to win an election. That means 41 percent can decide it". That kind of logic doesn't make sense in the Proposal A issue. The proposal is a different thing from a election of parties. There is no third party in a simple yes or no vote. The proposal simply reads that to raise taxes, a 60% majority is required, period. If the tax hungry officials read it to mean 41%, they should go back to school. If Kay Beard thinks 60% is too high, what does she think about the figure of 80% taxes being paid by outlying suburbs, but getting only 20% services rendered? Yep, the 20 percenters win.

Slamming protection for consumers

To the editor:

"Slamming," the practice of switching a customer's long distance service without consent, has become a costly and frustrating problem. Numerous consumers, including the elderly, families on a fixed incomes and small business owners, are all too often the targets of slamming.

Legislation making its way through the House of Representatives, after receiving overwhelming support from the Michigan Senate, will protect consumers and provide for penalties against this predatory practice. Senate Bill 837 and House Bill 5280 create the Michigan Slamming Prohibition Act, allowing the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) to levy fines on telecommunication companies. Long-distance providers would face fines of up to $20,000 for the first offense, fines up to $40,000 for the second offense, and if a company knowingly and repeatedly continues to engage in slamming, would face fines as high as $50,000 for each subsequent slamming offense.

This legislation specifically prohibits a telecommunication company from changing a customer's long-distance provider without permission and requires the MPSC to develop rules governing enforcement of the law along Federal Communications Commission guidelines.

Currently, such prohibitions and penalties do not exist. That is why it is so important the Legislature pass these tough new laws and give consumers true choice and protection in selecting a long distance provider.

This legislation will put telecommunication companies on notice that the unscrupulous practice of slamming will not be tolerated in Michigan.

Trip to China is our economic Munich

To the editor:

Historians will call President Clinton's current trip to China our "Economic Munich!"

Clinton is trying to convince the Chinese dictators not to further devalue their currency which would greatly threaten global capitalist prosperity and the American Bubble Economy.

But, like Chamberlain in the 1930's giving the Sudentenland to Hitler, Clinton is only buying a little time.

Forgotten is the fact that China's earlier devaluation is what caused the disastrous devaluation in Thailand last summer. Forgotten is the fact that Lenin one wrote that the easiest way to destroy capitalism would be to destroy its currency!

The Chinese Communists now have in their hands the pin with which to prick the capitalist bubble. Pity the poor Russians who tried to do it with an "arms race."

Lenin would be very pleased.

Walter Warren

Heterosexual wants better treatment

To the editor:

The homosexual community politics hot and heavy for better treatment from those of us who are unlike themselves in social and sexual preference. The homosexual wants a handsoff policy to be the vogue. Most of us walking straight do not condone beatings and bashings because of difference.

What is disturbing and seems never to be reported is the affront by the homosexual upon the unsuspecting heterosexual. Tens of thousands of times each year homosexuals attempt the hand-above-the-right-knee ploy soliciting sexual reciprocation. Though the homosexual doesn't think of such behavior as disgusting, we heterosexuals do. The behavior is never reported by any medium and is not subject to punishment by any law enforcement body.

I can hear the bleat of "homophobe" from the recoiling homosexual. But the heterosexual's response is not homophobic. Homophobia is the irrational fear of homosexuality or homosexuals. We want freedom from the homosexual affront, the homosexual attack. Should we call it a quid pro quo.

ALL-AREA MEN'S BASEBALL

BEN SZCZEPANSKI

A multi-talented athlete, Plymouth-Salem's Ben Szczepanski was the driving force behind the Rocks' bid for a Western Lakes Conference title. The senior slugger hammered two home runs, six doubles and drove in 18 runs in one 14-game stretch. He batted .492 for the 1998 campaign, which helped him earn a berth on the WLAA All-Lakes Division Team.

CHARLEY LEVERENZ

A senior righthander who starred for Wayne Memorial during his three-year stint on varsity, Charley Leverenz was the anchor to the 1998 Wayne lineup. A versatile player who could play just about any position, Leverenz batted .380 in his senior year en route to an All-Mega Conference, White Division berth. Leverenz caught as well as pitched for coach Jim Chronowski's ball club.

MIKE HOBEN

An infielder who concentrated on third base, Plymouth-Salem's Mike Hoben had an outstanding junior season. He blasted four homers, belted four doubles and counted 24 RBIs for the season that led to all-conference recognition. Hoben also had an on-base percentage of .471 in his first season with the Rocks. An exclusive third baseman, Hoben was almost flawless on defense.

Final pitch of the 1998 high school baseball season ends today with the unveiling of the Michigan Community Newspapers' All-Area Baseball Team.

GARY LINZELL

A basically junior Belleville lineup produced one of the better outfielders in the area in Gary Linzell, who wound up hitting .340 this season. Linzell laced a team-leading 11 doubles and contributed 16 RBIs. He also homered for the Tigers, a team that remained in contention for the Mega Conference Red Division title right up until the final week of play.

GORDY SMITH

Also an All-WLAA Lakes Division player, Glenn's Gordie Smith wrapped up his prep career with a .358 batting average. His on-base percentile was .509 for the season. In his 95 trips to the plate, Smith racked up 34 hits, scored 23 times, posted 14 RBIs and also hit four doubles and one triple. As an infielder, his defense was impeccable.

Playoff run earns Duffield top coach honor

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Todd Duffield apparently had one of those "sleeping giants" on his hands this season, and he didn't know when that giant was going to awake.

If ever.

After a mediocre regular season, which left the Westland John Glenn baseball team and coach clinging to a 12-15 record and mired in the middle of the Western Lakes Conference pack, Duffield's team suddenly came alive in the post season.

What apparently triggered the sudden surge were the playoffs and a dream of a state title.

"I knew there was talent on this club, " said Duffield, reflecting on the recently completed campaign. "We had the capabilities, but we seemed to be at a standstill, mired in our own mis-

TIM REEVES

Fans continue to speculate on whether the outcome of the Brighton-Glenn quarterfinal game would have been different (Glenn fell 8-0) if the injured Tim Reeves had been in the lineup. Reeves, a four-year veteran, batted .400 in his senior year and had 36 hits, including two homers, two triples, 10 doubles and 28 RBIs in 90-at bats.

C.J. BLEVINS

The recipient of the Most Improved player award on the Wayne Memorial team this season went to All-Mega Conference, White Division hurler C. J. Blevins. A southpaw senior who posted a 3-2 record in the division, Blevins's ERA was a skimpy 1.80 in 35 innings of work in the league. He struck out 30 conference batters and walked only six of them. "C. J. was our most improved player," notes Jim Chronowski.

CHET REES

An All-WLAA Lakes Division outfielder, John Glenn's Chet Rees is a three-year veteran of varsity competition. In his senior campaign, he went to the plate 107 times, and successfully hit the ball 40 times for a .374 batting average. He also had 25 RBIs, eight doubles and four triples and was one base .548 percent of the time. "Our seniors made a big difference in the stretch," said Duffield.

B.J. FLAIG

Consistency is the trademark of Belleville shortstop B. J. Flaig,. Flaig was instrumental in the Tigers' bid to win a Division I district playoff title. He batted .395 during his junior campaign and was a solid performer on defense. "B.J. played in every game this season, and he is one of our better overall athletes," says Belleville coach Pat Digman.

AARON LaPRARIE

Considered one of the blue chip high school catchers in the state, Belleville junior Aaron LaPrarie batted .361 as a junior. An all-conference pick, LaPrarie also contributed two homers and 20 RBIs in a Tiger season that included a victory over state-ranked Ann Arbor Pioneer in the Division I district playoffs. "Aaron has an incredible arm," said Belleville coach Pat Digman.

JUSTIN FENDELET

A member of the elite All-WLAA Lakes Division team, John Glenn's Justin Fendelet is a junior outfielder who helped the Rockets reach the Division I state quarterfinals. In his 103 at-bats, Fendelet scored 31 runs, collected 38 hits and chased home 17 RBIs. He had six doubles in a .369 season and his on base percentage was a hefty .577. "Justin was a tough batter to pitch to."

He also drilled four round-trippers, 10 doubles and led the Rocks' in RBIs with 26. His overall efforts also were not overlooked by conference coaches, who named Rizzi to the All-WLAA Lakes Division squad as the player At-Large.

DENNIS FORYSTEK

In a Romulus season that had its ups-and-downs, senior infielder Dennis Forystek provided the Eagles with stability. "Dennis was one of those pleasant surprises," said coach Don Foley. "As the leadoff hitter, Dennis got the job done, and he also came through with the clutch hits that provided us with the runs to win crucial games. And he also was a solid infielder."

(EDITOR'S NOTE - Former Wayne High baseball star and avid baseball fan Alan Waltz reminisces about past and present great players and plays during his lifelong association with the game and local clubs. Waltz, 64, also coached American Legion and Wayne-Ford Civic teams.)

Alan Waltz
And I know you can tell a few, too.

It was just 10 years ago - but it seems like only yesterday - that Westland John Glenn fielded one of its greatest if not the greatest ball club in its history.

That Glenn team, coached by the legendary Norm Hoenes, reached the Class A state regional playoffs where a pitcher from Taylor by the name of Steve Avery knocked the Rockets out of state contention.

If they had not met Avery on the way, few doubted that they would have gone all the way.

Avery, of course, went on to sign a bonus contract with the Atlanta Braves and is still throwing his fireballs in the Big Leagues today.

Among the more notable players of that Glenn team included Chris Sheffer, Clint Straub, Pat Pettit, Jerry Koester, Eric Stover, Paul Hayes, Darren Oliver and Paul Moon.

Sheffer, Straub and Stover received college scholarships and played four years of college ball, and Pettit, a standout in football as well, was awarded a football scholarship, and Koester went to Siena Heights and is the only one I know who went on to play professional baseball.

He played three years in Class "A" in the Northern League and one-year in the Midwest League before a leg injury abruptly ended his career.

In the meantime, Sheffer was blasting them over the fence at the University of Detroit. He also managed to play the outfield impeccably.

While Sheffer was slugging them out of the ball parks, his teammate Straub was on the mound cutting them down at the plate. Oh, yes, Straub also played the outfield when he wasn't on the mound.

That Glenn team was something.

During the summer, most of these players also played American Legion ball for Post 111 of Wayne, and the club missed by one game of going to the American Legion National Tournament when they dropped a squeaker, 7-6, to Sterling Heights in the finals on a ninth-inning, three-rum homer.

Where did these stars get their expertise?

Well, in the Wayne Ford Civic League when they signed up to play at the age of 10.

Jerry Pitcher, Dick Ashton and Joe (oops forgot the last name, maybe the old coach can call it in after he reads this) rode them pretty hard back then.

Also on that team, they had Ron Way and Sean Heard from Wayne.

Way pitched in the Minor Leagues for Pittsburgh before an injury also ended his career.

But I will never forget that one game in Lincoln Park back in 1984. I was coaching Wayne Ford against LP and in the seventh inning, with the game scoreless, we executed a "suicide squeeze play" (courtesy of my old American Legion coach Connie Schlaufman, who caught in the Minor Leagues for the Tigers.)

What was the play?

No, I'm not giving it away here, but we won the game, 1-0, and I'm sure Straub, Pettit, Sheffer and the rest of my players won't forget that play and it was then I knew these kids were destined to be great, though they were only 13-year-old old.

Now I'm sure all of these boys could have made it to the big leagues but God apparently had other plans.

Where are these kids now - they have grown into fine young men who usually can be found on any given summer night playing softball with some team.

It's great to have such positive memories, folks.

And to have seen such kids grow up into fine men, and I feel baseball had a lot to do with it.

takes, created by the fact that we weren't playing defense."

But the pre-district started the Rockets on the road to respectability.

From a regular season of 12-15, the Westlanders strung together five consecutive victories to win the pre-district game against natural rival, Wayne Memorial, they then went on to capture the Division I district and regional titles, beating powerful Belleville en route to the quarters.

Unfortunately, the Rockets went into the "Sweet 16" game state-ranked Brighton (ranked as high as No. 1 in some polls) without their veteran Tim Reeves, who suffered a season-ending broken foot at the regional finals.

Brighton shut out Glenn 8-0.

"We had in this year's lineup four seniors who have a lot of experience. I knew that, in time, they were going to prove themselves. And they did. This team never quit. It managed to come back and win a couple of titles and reach the quarterfinals.

"Not many teams do that," said Duffield.

In his third year as head coach at Glenn and in his 12th season in coaching, the ex-John Glenn ball player, who replaced Norm Hoenes, the only coach Glenn had known since the high school opened its doors in 1965, has earned yet another honor to add to his list of accomplishments this year.

Fans and coaches in the area, joined by the Michigan Community Newspapers' Sports Staff are unanimous in that they believe Todd Duffield is the Coach of the Year for the 1998 season.

DALE HAYES

A righthander who got the Rockets on track in the playoffs, Dale Hayes posted a 6-3 won-lost record for Glenn, which came back from a so-so regular season to win district and regional championships. In 66 innings of work, the junior struck out 50 and walked 21. He had a 2.83 ERA. Equally effective at the plate, Hayes batted .375 for the year.

JEREMY STEVENS

The captain of the 1998 Romulus club, infielder-pitcher (5-5) Jeremy Stevens led his team by example. "The players looked to Jeremy for leadership," said coach Don Foley, "and he (Jeremy) was always there for them." As a pitcher, Stevens carded 48 strikeouts in 38 innings on the mound. He had a 2.78 earned run average.

STEVE JUSTICE

The workhorse of the 1998 Romulus team, Steve Justice batted .333 for the season. Justice, a two-year member of coach Don Foley's varsity team, caught and played first base in his senior year. He also was named by the conference coaches to the All-Gold Division Team. Among his batting credentials are five doubles, two triples and 14 RBIs.

Holshoe picked All-MIAA in softball

A former Belleville High softball star was among seven members of the Kalamazoo College softball team to be named to the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association's all-conference team by the conference's coaches.

The Hornets placed senior catcher Heather Holshoe, of Belleville, along with senior pitcher-outfielder Megan Readler, Carrie Sheets, Amy Dey, Kelly LaCosse, Becky Hunyady and Angela Lanter's on the 1998 All- MIAA teams.

Holshoe was the second team backstop. She hit .314 during the recently completed campaign and also drove in nine runs for the Hornets in her final season as a collegiate ball player.

The Hornet catcher helped Kalamazoo pitchers post an incredible 2.79 team earned run average.

A star on the softball diamonds while leading the Tigers of Belleville to conference and district titles five years ago, Holshoe recorded a steady .991 fielding percentage and committed only one error the entire season.

The Hornets finished the 1998 campaign with a 12-18 overall record and posted a .500 record.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Senior citizen proves role model

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Senior citizen role model Bernette Windom is proving just that for her family.

Following the death of her husband, Bernette started a decade long tradition for her family by going back to school, earning an associate's degree in substance abuse counseling in 1991 at the age of 64.

Six years later she earned a second associate's degree in gerontology.

Her actions did not go unnoticed by her family members, as a daughter- in-law, Delores Windom of Detroit, then returned to college and earned a bachelor's degree in health services administration in 1993 at the University of Detroit Mercy.

Delores Windom then went on to pass her L.S.A.T. exam and earned a scholarship for law school.

A second daughter-in-law Sheila Windom of Romulus then returned to college and earned associate's degree with honors (Phi Theta Kappa) in nursing from Wayne County Community College in 1995.

She now is a registered nurse and now has an associate of Applied Science degree as a Licensed Veterinary Technician.

In keeping with the tradition, Bernette's daughter, Celeste Windom of Detroit, returned to college as well, graduated from WCCC with an associate's degree in occupational therapy.

She is currently working as an O.T.A.

Now the male member of the family, Derryl Windom, a son in the Inkster based family, is working toward his degree in corrections at WCCC.

Bernette's oldest daughter, Sandra Gibbs, just graduated from WCCC earning associates degree in nursing as well. She currently is working as a registered nurse. She and her mother were both cited at the same commencement exercises last month.

Bernette was designated as the 1998 honor graduate at WCCC and was awarded a special honors tassel and was inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa Society.

She also was a recipient of the "Ability is Ageless" trophy and was presented with a special trophy at an awards luncheon at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn.

Bernette attributes her success to her faith in God and secondly to her gerontology instructor Dr. Catherine Wells.

She also expressed great thanks to Tony Fischer, the activities director at Heartland Health Care Center.

Light-heartedly she said her slogan has for a long time been "Where there is a Windom, there is a way."

But in reality her main theme has always been "I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me."

Stamps proving favorites

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A century after they were originally printed, a series of nine commemorative U.S. postage stamps, are now being recognized by area senior citizens for their classic beauty following their release in June.

The new Trans-Mississippi stamps were issued in two color designs as originally planned in 1898. But cost considerations during the Spanish-American War required that the stamps be printed instead in single-color designs.

"The Trans-Mississippi stamps, and in particular the 'Western cattle in Storm' design, are legends in the stamp collecting community," Carl T. January, Detroit Postal Service District Manager, revealed.

"Although the original stamps were not received with any great fanfare, these new bi-color Omahas -- as they are affectionately called, are sure to be favorites among both the traditional collectors and those new to the hobby of stamp collecting," January predicted.

More than two million of the nine stamp sheets are available across the U.S.

The original stamps were designed by Raymond Ostrander Smith and were issued from June 1 to Nov. 1 1998.

The new Trans-Mississippi stamps were designed by Richard Sheaff of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Pastor installation

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Rev. Ron Vanderbeek will be officially installed as Minister of the Word at the First Presbyterian Church of Wayne at a 6:30 p.m. service on July 26.

Vanderbeek has been serving the church since March.

Presbytery Elder Paul Winslow will conduct the installation rites.

Vanderbeek formerly served in Grand Rapids for about two years and prior to that served in the chaplaincy field in the Mt.Clemons area.

Vanderbeek, 53, a graduate of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary in New Jersey, invites the public to join the service at the church located at Annapolis and Venoy.

Each Sunday the church holds Sunday School classes at 9:45 a.m. for youth and adults following by an 11 a.m. worship service.

In addition a Bible study, open to public, is offered at 10 a.m. each Tuesday.

An afternoon of music and magic entitled "Jazz in the Garden" will be offered from 1 to 4 p.m. July 12 at the Church of the Precious Blood, 13305 Grove St. in Detroit.

Bishop Mose B. Anderson, church pastor and auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Detroit, will be joined by the George Benson Trio and a magic show called "Illusions" by Steven Douglas.

The cost for the event is $50 covering the entertainment, food and beverages.

All the proceeds will go to the Bishop Moses B. Anderson Scholarship Fund at Madonna University. For more information call 734-432-5421.

Following tradition, the 9 a.m. Romulus religious service that kicks off a full day of activities at Elmer Johnson Park on July 4th will take place again on Saturday.

The Rev. Neil Swanger, pastor of the Ball Road Tabernacle Church, revealed Monday that the worship service will be adjacent to the Romulus Kiwanis Club's annual pancake breakfast area in the park.

A musical keyboard will be used to keep up the spirits of the religious faithful and add to the excitement of the day's beginnings.

The hour long ecumenical service is open to area residents of all Christian denominations, he added.

The pancake breakfast will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A reminder to those who took part in the first New Years Eve Romulus High School Lock-in for area students will be mailed out soon by religious and community leaders.

Last year students were treated to hours of safe fun, music, basketball and treats as parents, pastors, police officers and others teamed up to provide an alcohol and drug-free atmosphere for local youth.

Law enforcement officials said they were extremely pleased that the event went off without any problems.

The Rev. Neil Swanger of Ball Road Tabernacle Church and Romulus Wesleyan Pastor Steve Adams are initiating a drive to make the "lock- in" an annual event.

Funds to continue the event, pledges of food (pizzas etc) and volunteer chaperones are being sought.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Ball Road Tabernacle at 313-722-6636.

Free Christian musical planned in Westland

Area residents are invited to a free Christian musical experience and continental breakfast behind Westland City Hall at 9 a.m. Sunday July 5 under the direction of the Westland Free Methodist Church.

The event will kick off the final day of the Westland Festival celebration -- marking our nation's patriotic and religious roots.

The free musical session will be headed by the Westland Free Methodist Church band (drums, guitars, etc.) and will include a talk by Pastor Mark Cryderman. While several hundred chairs will be available during the festival, it is recommended that families also consider bringing their own chairs or blankets for this session.

A free continental breakfast will follow the service.

Army leader change

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A major leadership change occurred yesterday at the Wayne Westland Salvation Army, as Lts. Charles and Betty Yockey, arrived to take over the corps responsibilities from departing Capts. Mark and Sue Welsh.

The Yockeys arrived Monday night with their four young children, fresh from completing a two year Officer Leadership Training School in Chicago, Ill.

While no resume on Yockey is available yet, inside sources said the new lieutenant (who will be installed Sunday night) comes with a strong musical background.

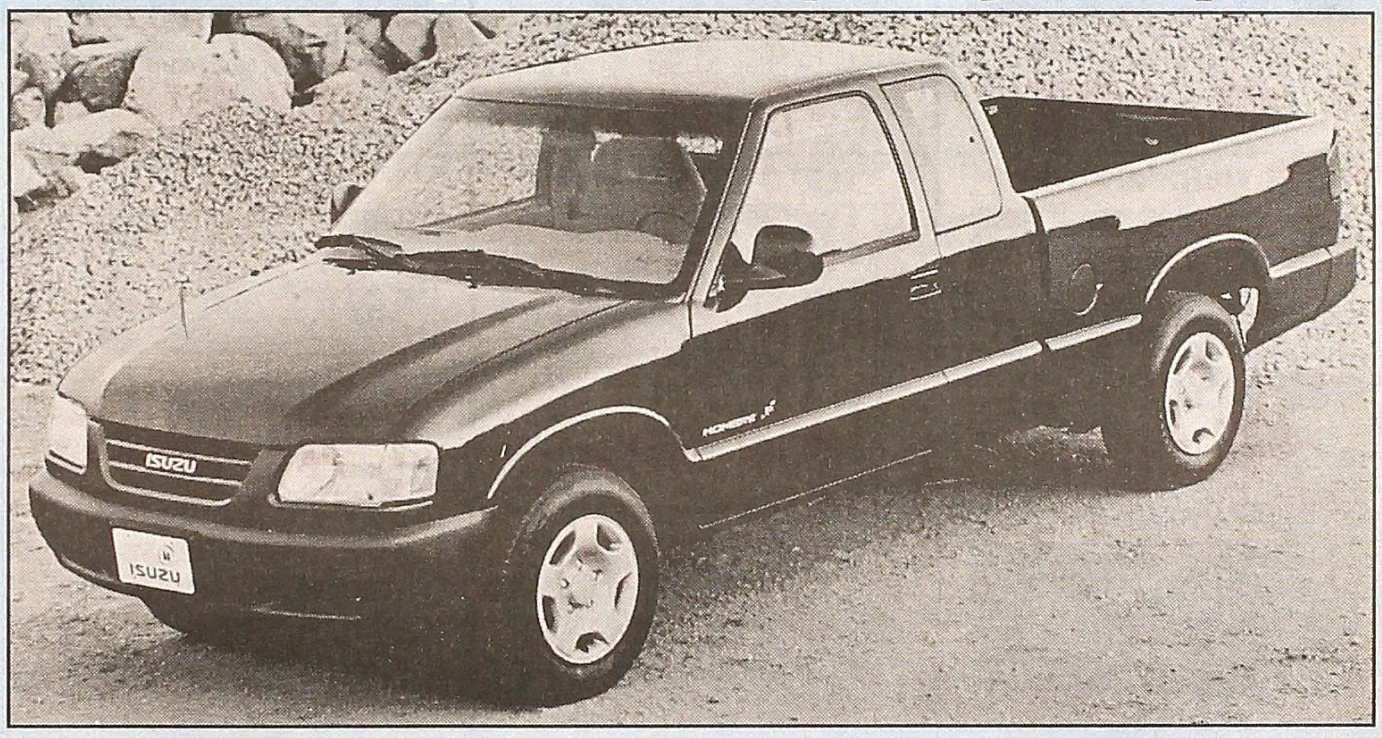
Hombre can't match competitions' quality and price

By KAREN STRONSKI
MCN Automotive Writer



1998 Isuzu Hombre

I recently had the opportunity to test drive the 1998 Isuzu Hombre, and I wish I didn't. It was not on my list of top ten autos to drive. First of all, this one only had 1,000 miles on it and the transmission was already slipping. Just step on the gas and all you could here was the engine winding, and the truck struggling to change gears. I don't know about you, but for a brand new truck I find this to be unacceptable. Not to mention that it had no acceleration whatsoever. One would think for a V-6 it would have a little bit of get up and go.

When looking at the exterior of this truck you can see that it has the sportiness of the rest of the bunch but doesn't get it in the power division. The Hombre offers a 4.3 liter OHV V-6, which is rated at 175 horsepower at 4,400 rpm's. Taking off from a light or trying to merge on the highway was a great big problem.

The Hombre Spacecab offers occasional seating for five, however, it is very crowded and quite uncomfortable. A 60/40 split-front bench seat allows access to rear jumpseats. The fully appointed interior offers as standard equipment day/night rear view mirror with map lights, dual padded color-keyed cloth sun visors with slider extensions, dual illuminated vanity mirrors, dual auxiliary 12-volt power outlets, glove box with cup holders, four speaker AM/FM stereo with clock, floor console with cup holders (which don't even hold a can of pop adequately,) and floor carpeting.

Some of the optional equipment includes: air conditioning, AM/FM stereo with compact disc player, sliding rear window and cloth floor mats. There is also a "Power" package for the V-6 which includes power everything, but this package comes with a hefty price tag.

There wasn't that much that I was impressed with when it came to the Hombre. And the one I tested was loaded. I found it to be over priced, over rated, a gas hog (approx. 18 in the city and 22 miles per gallon on the highway) with no acceleration. If you are in the market for a truck, I would look elsewhere. Try a Ford F-150, Splash, S-10 or Sierra. For the money, you will get a much better value.

In its defense though, all of the electronic bells and whistles are just where you would put them. It was user friendly for the driver. The sound quality of the stereo was not bad either. The seating was okay as well, for the driver and front passenger. But, don't look for any comfort in the rear jump seats.

I wish that I could elaborate a little more on the good qualities of this truck, but there just isn't any more. What I mean is, yes it was sporty, and yes it had a good stereo, and yes driver and front passenger seating was good, but that's it!

Here comes the kicker, Price! For the basic package you will pay about $20,000 and as tested, you will pay a whopping $26,900. As I have stated before, try a Ford or Chevy, you will get a much better "Bang For Your Buck!"
